

JERSEY AGAINST CANCER

Val Garnier

Health Promotion Officer and STAFF of Jersey Health Promotion Unit

Aims and Overview of Campaign.

Main concentration will be on Children Against Cancer.

Healthy relationships are a vital aspect of any child's ability to cope with a whole range of experiences.

Education about cancer is clearly part of 'looking after oneself, as exercise and rest, healthy eating, safety, substance use and body management are all related to illness prevention and general good health.

Care of the environment, community involvement and service are also part of cancer health promotion.

In all these suggestions, it is necessary for the children to be actively involved in the learning process.

Neither the health education nor the cross-curricular approach is complete in itself, and even when both approaches are used, they are likely to be ineffective without the support of the school ethos as a % hole, and the home and the community outside school.
